10th Ocular Oncology Day

Dearest friends and colleagues,

It feels like only yesterday since the start of it all, yet we are now holding the International Days of Ocular Oncology for the tenth time. Initially a meeting held among a few friends back in 2012, the International Days have become a special moment for everyone involved in Ocular Oncology. More and more participants have joined in from Italy, Europe, the United States, South America, Africa and even as far away as Australia.

In the current season, which feels like the early arrival of spring, Italy is blossoming with the desire to come together once again, to exchange new ideas and discuss innovative therapies, research projects, and results achieved so far.

Eagerness to spend time together, to embrace one another and to share delightful evenings in each other's company is also coming into flower. With great joy, we invite you to begin to plan your trip to Siena for the tenth International Days of Ocular Oncology, scheduled to begin on 1 December and conclude on 3 December.

Shortly you will receive a preliminary programme along with links for registration and abstract submissions.

The magical atmosphere of Siena and the splendour of days in the Piazza del Campo will enthrall you in a festive climate.

*Looking forward to embracing one other in friendship once again!
